

Terms of Service for any service package of Li Tadaa

Responsibility for your own process

- You are responsible for your transformation, for incorporating the coaching, and for implementing the techniques discovered through the program.
- If you encounter dissatisfaction or feel stuck, then you should firsthand communicate directly to the team, so that we can do our best to help.

Cancellation Policy:

The client has the right to cancel their membership up until 14 days have passed since the agreement was signed. Later there is no cancellation available. The Client may leave the program at any time however, no refund is possible.

Payment

The payment for the coaching services is upfront unless agreed otherwise. If the client and the coach has agreed on an individual payment plan, the client commits to pay all the installment, cancellation is only available the first 14 days.

Recordings

The zoom sessions are being recorded however only the host is visible and not the participants. If you step up to be coached in front of the group or do a personal sharing YOU WILL BE SEEN ON THE RECORDING. If you do not want to be seen, turn your camera off while speaking.

Copyrighted Material

The material offered in this program is protected, you should not share it with others who are not participating in the program.